Description

The Administrative Office of the Courts will use the services of a retired former drug court/problem solving court judge to conduct ongoing certification of Problem-solving courts throughout the state, to provide recommendations and technical assistance on the operation of Problem-solving courts, and to implement the certification rules and procedures as set forth in the Code of Judicial Administration. The contractor MUST have problem solving court experience as a judge.

Contractor will conduct site visits to each Problem-solving court in the state. The purpose of these visits is to:

- Evaluate each court against the certification requirements established by the Utah Judicial Council.
- Gather objective information on each court, including the number of participants, the eligibility criteria that is used, evaluation methodologies, and any other information determined necessary to effectively evaluate the drug courts.

Contractor may establish the manner in which this information will be reported. The report must be in writing.

Provide technical assistance to judges who run these courts. Provide technical assistance to court personnel regarding best practices, such as appropriate screening, risk and needs evaluations, and program design.

Make recommendations to the Judicial Council in such areas as rules, training, and the next steps for developing, expanding and monitoring Problem-solving courts.

All questions must be emailed to Dustin Treanor at dustint@utcourts.gov by the comments deadline of November 21, at 4:00 P.M. MST.
