Questions and Answers

Question: I have a question about the request for bid solicitation forms requirement, I want to make sure it's referring to the Standard Forms No Insurance or Bonding Required document.

City Response: That is correct, the City is requesting all those forms (do not include the terms & conditions, only completed forms) in that section of the submission requirements.

Will the bag itself be required to state "mini flake"?

City Response: The bag itself does not have to state "mini flake". The City currently uses America's Choice Brand Eco Flake and is seeking the same or equivalent for the new contract. This bag does not specifically state "mini flake" but has the following desired characteristics: they are environmentally friendly, highly absorbent, easy pick, and they expand to 5.5 cubic feet of usable volume.

Specifications read that they shall be no less than 3 cu.ft. compressed. If the bale expands to more than 4 cu.ft. but, is 2.67 cu.ft. compressed will it be considered?

City Response: Yes, this will be considered as long as the expanded amount meets the specifications and the product is America's Choice Brand Eco Flake or equivalent.
